

Arizona Ranch Girl Acclaimed 'Miss America'

Mother Of 3 Takes Mrs. Beauty Title

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—An Arizona ranch girl headed for the big city today to start her career as Miss America, 1949. Dark-haired, brown-eyed Jacqueline Mercer of the X-Bar-X ranch, Litchfield, Ariz., who won the title Saturday night, starts on a round of personal appearances that will take her back across the continent. The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Mercer came here from her ranch home after winning the title Miss Arizona. As the new Miss America she gets a $5,000 scholarship and a $3,000 automobile, plus contracts for the personal appearances. She won the awards over a field of 52 beautiful girls from 45 states, four major cities, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Although her long-range plans are "marriage first, career second," her immediate objectives are another year at Phoenix Junior college and then Leland Stanford university. She's studying dramatics, and it was a dramatic reading from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" that gave her first place in the talent division of the pageant. Her figure—34-inch bust, 22-inch waist, 34-inch hips—gave her a first in the bathing suit division. The girls also appeared in evening gowns.

Shortest Since 1921

The shortest Miss America since 1921 (five feet four inches) and the lightest ever (106 pounds), she neither drinks nor smokes. She designed all the gowns she wore in the week-long beauty pageant. Ironically, the tiny but trim Arizona girl succeeds a five-foot-nine-inch, 138-pound Miss America of 1948, Miss Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn.

Miss America's married counterpart, Mrs. America, was selected yesterday at Asbury Park, 60 miles north of her on the Jersey shore, and promptly suggested a "Miss-Mrs." comparison.

Mrs. Frances L. Cloyd of San Diego, Calif., 23-year-old mother of three children, contended that a woman had to be married before qualifying as really mature and beautiful. She suggested a competition, "perhaps for charity." And in New York, Miss Germany of 1949 (Ingeborg Marianne Loevenstein) stepped off a plane and told newsmen with a sigh that "American girls are built better" than Frauleins because "usually German girls are heavier set."

Secretary Of Defense Says He Has No Fight With State Secretary

Chicago, Sept. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson said that all is peaceful between himself and Secretary of State Acheson. There had been reports that the two had differed over the question of sending a steel mill to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Johnson denied this yesterday in a transcribed radio discussion with three Illinois congressmen.

"I am not worrying about the present decision on the steel mill going to Tito," he said. "We'll take a look at that a year from now and see how things go between Tito and Stalin."

"When Dean (Acheson) and I disagree, as we sometimes do, we sit down and out of the talks there comes agreement. x x x the stories in the press that we have had these fights that threaten the integrity of the administration are utterly without foundation."

Bourges, France, Sept. 12 (AP)—Blonde Archduchess Elisabeth Charlotte, 27, youngest daughter of Austria's last Emperor, Charles I, was married today to Prince Heinrich Carl of Liechtenstein, 33. There were three separate ceremonies—one civil, one a family tradition and one the religious service.

WORTH A WHISTLE—Cabbies nearly tumbled out of their hacks when they spotted a girl strolling along a Chicago boulevard clad only in a transparent plastic suit—with a swim suit underneath. Eighteen-year-old Janet Martyr was modeling the outfit—known as "rayducer"—designed to help folks reduce by melting fat off. Only question is why should Janet want to alter even one of those curves?

Mother And Son, 16, Summoned To Trial For Pigpen Murder

Dover, Del., Sept. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Inez Brennan, plump 45-year-old brunette, and her 16-year-old son, Robert, were summoned to trial on murder charges today in the "lonely hearts" slaying of an elderly carpenter.

The two are accused in the fatal shooting of Wade N. Woodridge, 77, of Bedford, Va., whose dismembered body was found on a Dover city dump last April.

Kidnaped Girl, 4, To Skip School

Abductor, 35, Jailed At Trenton, N. J.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—Little Janie Franz stayed home from kindergarten class today to be with her parents.

The blue-eyed four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Franz won't have to go to school for a few days, her mother said, until public interest in the little girl's kidnapping has dwindled.

Janie, safe at home after being kidnaped Friday afternoon outside her home here and released the next afternoon near Philadelphia, continued to eat heavily. Although she never was an unusual eater, the dimpled little girl followed a big dinner Saturday with a bedtime snack and ate a big breakfast and huge chicken dinner yesterday.

Gerald A. Hutt, 35-year-old unemployed wood finisher of Bridgeport, Conn., charged with the kidnaping, sat in a cell in Mercer county jail under $50,000 bail. He faces a prison term of 30 years to life if indicted and convicted. He has an estranged wife and two children in Bridgeport.

California Resort Fire Stamped Out

King City, Calif., Sept. 12 (AP)—Forest service crews worked today stamping out the last embers of a Los Padres National Forest brush fire which started Thursday at Tassajara Hot Springs resort. The blaze destroyed the resort's main hotel building and 10 cabins and for a time marooned 62 guests and employees.

The fire was controlled Saturday night. Many of the vacationers left yesterday, but some remained to finish their holiday.

Michigan Centennial Fair Draws 776,218

Detroit, Sept. 12 (AP)—Michigan's Centennial State Fair drew a record crowd of 776,218 persons during its 10 days.

The fair closed yesterday. The previous attendance record was 536,947 in 1947. This year's crowd was almost 40 per cent greater than the attendance last year.

Officials said 94,168 persons flocked to the fairgrounds on closing day. One of the big attractions yesterday was the 100-mile auto race which attracted a crowd of 20,000. The hit of the fair, according to officials, was the continuous stage performance and concert at the music shell.

Mrs. Brennan's two other sons, Raymond, 23, and George, 17, are charged with being accessories but will be tried later.

Maximum penalty for a murder conviction in Delaware—which still retains the whipping post for punishment of some crimes—is death by hanging. Edward R. Duffly, special assistant state attorney general who is directing the prosecution, has not indicated, however, that he will seek the death penalty.

The Woodridge slaying has been described by Col. Herbert Barnes, commandant of Delaware state police, as one of the most gruesome in the state's criminal history.

Mrs. Brennan and Robert made a series of statements after their arrest in April, Barnes said, telling of shooting the Virginia carpenter, burying his body in a pigpen on the Brennan farm near Dover and later taking it to the dump.

Barnes said the Brennans also told of shooting Hugo Schulz, 61, on his farm near Concord, N. H., bringing his body to Delaware in a truck and burying it first in the pigpen and later in the same dump.

The present trial does not involve Schulz's death.

Mrs. Brennan in her statements said she met both Woodridge and Schulz through "lonely hearts" correspondence. A number of letters from men were found on the Brennan farm, according to state police. And even after Mrs. Brennan's arrest she received answers to a magazine advertisement in which she sought employment as a housekeeper.

Steps Outlined To Aid England

More Freedom Given In Spending Grants

(By The Associated Press)

The United States, Britain and Canada are reported today to have agreed on steps to ease Britain's financial crisis. These steps are said to include greater freedom for Britain in spending Marshall plan dollars for Canadian wheat and acceptance by the United States of Britain's need to discriminate against American goods in order to conserve dollars.

Britain is reported turning to the international monetary fund for loans which could total $312,000,000 in the next 12 months.

When the finance and foreign ministers of Britain, Canada and the United States were called into another session of their conference in Washington, the indications were that they were nearing the end of their negotiations. Completion of the financial conference will clear the way for a new round of financial and diplomatic talks scheduled to begin in Washington tomorrow.

Workers Of U. S. Plan Drive For Pensions And Insurance

Truce Sought To Avert Big Steel Strike

Union Policy Makers Study Package Deal

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

Pittsburgh, Sept. 12 (AP)—The steel strike crisis was put up to strategists of the CIO United Steelworkers today.

They held the answer to President Truman's request for an 11-day extension of the strike truce expiring tomorrow midnight. Steel industry's Big Five accepted the extension.

Also in the union's hands is the working man's demands for a fourth round pay increase—specifically whether to accept the Presidential board's formula for settling the steel wage dispute.

The Board suggested a 10-cent hourly package covering pensions and insurance but no wages.

Decisions on the Board recommendations also are expected from more than 60 steel companies as soon as officers and boards of directors finish studying the fact finders' report.

The steelworkers executive board went into session at 9 a. m. Eastern standard time at Hotel Sheraton. CIO and steelworker President Philip Murray, spearheading labor's drive for a fourth round pay boost, got behind closed doors with other union heads to plot their course.

Extension Indicated

The Executive Board is made up of International officers and 33 district directors. Its recommendations must be ratified by the union's wage policy committee which was called together at 1 p. m. Eastern standard time.

The wage policy group includes representatives of local unions. Decisions of the executive group usually are not made public before presentation and action by the wage policy body.

Murray has withheld comment on the truce and the fact finders' report pending the union meeting. There is general feeling however that the truce will be extended.

If Murray comes from the union meeting and flashes the green light to postpone the strike that will allow the union and the companies more time to go over the Board's suggestions.

Five New Polio Cases Listed As Quarantine Ends In Easton, Pa.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Five new infantile paralysis cases were reported within 24 hours after Easton officials announced the end of the city's house quarantine on children.

With 80 polio cases reported—three of them fatal—the city ordered the quarantine last Aug. 28. On Saturday, the city fathers said the incidence of the disease had fallen off sufficiently to permit lifting the ban next Wednesday.

Within a few hours, three new cases were admitted to Easton hospital—John H. Hartpence, 37, Easton; Carl Taueci, 15, and Anna Cervasi, 5, both of nearby Phillipsburg, N. J.

Yesterday, two more patients were taken to the hospital—Neil Mayberry, 18, Port Murray, N. J., and Edward Stoffels, two, Easton. Authorities immediately began reconsidering their decision to end the quarantine and to permit the reopening of public schools Sept. 19.

At the age of 55 Rutledge succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage in the little village hospital here Saturday night.

A spokesman for the family said Rutledge's widow and their three children would motor to the capital today. They had been with the justice since he was stricken Aug. 27 while on vacation at nearby Ogunquit.

Survivors Tell Of Sea Tragedy

Nine Die In Sinking Of Cabin Cruiser

Nantucket Island, Mass., Sept. 12 (AP)—One of the survivors told a heart-breaking story today of watching nine relatives and friends drown Friday night after their cabin cruiser was smashed to pieces in raging seas.

Alfred Allenby, 23, was the only one of a lashed-together group of 10 life-jacketed picnickers to reach this island alive. He swam and drifted 10 miles in 15 hours, watching the others die one by one.

The other survivor, Russell Palmer, 23, of Falmouth, flopped onto Dionis Beach an hour before Allenby was pulled from the surf and gasped first news of how the 38-foot Constance swamped the night before.

Palmer captained the ill-fated craft. He became separated from the others when he returned to the cruiser for a line. He made it to the beach alone.

Those young Allenby watched down were his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Allenby of Falmouth; his fiancée, Emily Foster, 21, of Falmouth; his brother Leighton, 28; his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Naim of Rochester, N. Y.; John Hadley, 19, of Falmouth; Jane Mangle, 19, of Staten Island, N. Y.; and Patricia Dickinson, 18, of Verona, N. J.

All the bodies were recovered or washed up on the beach with the wreckage of the Constance.

Third Convict Gets Away At Marquette

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 12 (AP)—The third inmate to escape Marquette prison within a week was being hunted today in the Upper Peninsula.

Raymond P. La Pointe, 35, walked away from the prison's outside dormitory yesterday. He was serving a parole violation sentence from Berrien county.

No trace has yet been found of long-termers Sam Lieb and Henry Shelton who walked away last Monday. They are suspected of either having had "outside" help in making their getaway or of being in hiding in this vicinity.

Tito Tactics Against Moscow Rule Copied By Other Red Nations

By ALEX SINGLETON

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 12 (AP)—Marshal Tito's so far successful rebellion against Moscow domination shows signs of being copied in other communist countries.

Saturday's revelation that Hungary had jailed eight top party men for trying to overthrow the Kremlin - controlled government was taken here as the latest evidence that important persons in the Satellite countries would like to follow Yugoslavia's example.

Along with other incidents, it is considered to show wide-spread resentment in eastern Europe over Russia's economic exploitation of the small "people's democracies."

Observers recalled the trial and execution of Albania's Koci Xoxe, the removal of Greece's rebel leader Gen. Markos Vafiadis, Bulgaria's ousting of Traicho Kostov from his party post and the development of an independent anti-Moscow communist party in Germany.

Tito's promise in August—"We will help the Bulgarians to remove those individuals who have raised obstacles to creation and preservation of brotherly relations"—now is believed to have a deeper meaning.

Diplomatic observers in Belgrade see in it a promise, not only to the Bulgarians, but to the rest of eastern Europe, to help all those who oppose subservience to Moscow.

It appeared here that, with so many high-ranking communists denounced in the cominform states, there must be a very widespread independence movement in those countries.

West Germans Pick President

Free Democrat May Head New Republic

By JAMES DEVLIN

Bonn, Germany, Sept. 12 (AP)—Prof. Theodor Heuss, whose books were burned by Hitler, was elected first president tonight of the new West German Republic.

The 65-year-old educator, candidate of the three-party rightist government coalition of the new state, received 416 of 800 votes cast on the second ballot, better than a clear majority.

Dr. Kurt Schumacher, chairman of the Socialist party on the left, was second with 312 votes. The first ballot ended in a deadlock.

The election of Dr. Heuss assured the earlier selection of Dr. Konrad Adenauer as first chancellor (Prime Minister) of West Germany and the subsequent end of allied military government over the Western part of this conquered land.

Dr. Adenauer is chairman of the Christian Democratic party and chief organizer of the Rightist government coalition of Christian Democrats, Free Democrats and the German party.

Pope Suggests Motto For Union Workers

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Sept. 12 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told a delegation of union workers yesterday that "heaven helps him who helps himself" would be a good motto for organized labor.

The Pontiff said labor unions "came into being as the spontaneous and necessary consequence of capitalism x x x as such the church gave them its approval."

He emphasized, however, that the unions must "endeavor to promote Christian order in the workers' world," and warned against "the temptation to misuse x x x the power of organization, a temptation as dreadful and dangerous as the temptation to abuse the power of private capital."

Fact-Finding Board Vetoes Pay Increases

New Pattern Set For Labor Relations

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, Sept. 12, (P) — A new drive by America's workers for employer-paid pension and insurance plans seemed a sure bet today. It has the blessing of President Truman's steel dispute board.

The board came out flatly against any wage boosts now in steel or any other industry. It said they would only upset the nation's economy just when it was settling down from postwar jitters. But the board came out solidly for the pension-insurance plans.

It said that so long as congress fails to broaden the social security laws, then employers must step in to fill the needs of their workers.

Accordingly, the board recommended against any pay boost in the steel dispute but suggested the industry set aside the equivalent of $200,000,000 a year for pensions and sickness, disability and death benefits. The cost was estimated at between 8 and 10 cents an hour per worker.

Unions Disappointed
The plan was widely expected to result in establishing a labor relations pattern for the rest of the country for the next half-year or so.

Union men, while sorely disappointed over the prospect of going without a fourth postwar round of wage increases, were happy about the board's fixing of management responsibility to provide pension-insurance plans.

They also applauded the board's recommendation that such plans should be paid wholly by employers.

The attitude of many employers, on the other hand, was one of welcoming the called-for ban on new wage boosts but of gloom over the board's pension-insurance comments.

In declaring that federal social security for the aged is inadequate and that the government has failed to provide workers other forms of insurance, the board had this to say:

"No thoughtful citizen, interested in the human resources of our nation, can expect labor to wait patiently by until the government makes up its mind."

"Workers are entitled to security in the meantime — with the thought that, if government should finally decide to provide adequate security through a nationwide compulsory plan, changes

Government Collects $9,332 Back Taxes From Georgia Klans

Atlanta, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Federal government has collected $9,332 in back income taxes from the association of Georgia Klans.

Imperial Wizard Sam Roper contends the case is still in litigation and that the money was taken from a safety deposit box through a writ of attachment.

U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Marion Allen merely said the tax lien was paid "under protest." He would not elaborate. Roper asserts the Klan should be exempt from such taxes, "just as the Masons, the Knights of Columbus and other benevolent organizations."

Bullet Wounds Farmer; Flat Rock Man Is Held For Assault With Rifle

Peter Braun, 69, of Flat Rock, Escanaba township, today is held in jail in Escanaba charged with assault with a rifle with intent to murder in connection with a Saturday night argument that resulted in the wounding of Theodore "Ted" Tourangeau, 75, also of Flat Rock.

Tourangeau suffered a bullet wound about two inches long and one-quarter inch deep in the right shoulder. His condition is not serious.

The two men have been neighbors and friends for about 30 years, according to Sheriff William E. Miron, who investigated the case and took Braun into custody Saturday night.

Today Tourangeau signed a complaint and a warrant was issued charging Braun with assault with a .44 caliber rifle with intent to murder.

Sheriff Miron said that Tourangeau reported that he had gone to the Braun home Saturday evening to talk with Braun. Tourangeau had purchased the rifle place Sept. 6. He told the sheriff he wanted to warn Braun against carelessness with fire while Braun continued to live there.

An argument ensued and the sheriff said that Tourangeau told him that Braun cursed him, using an epithet to which Tourangeau replied with the statement that if he were such a person, so also was Braun. Braun threatened Tourangeau according to the report to the sheriff, and Tourangeau went out to his car.

Tourangeau had entered the car and had not yet started the motor when Braun came to the door with a .44 caliber rifle and walked to a point a short distance from the automobile in which Tourangeau sat.

Tourangeau said Braun shot once at him, the bullet grazing his shoulder. The rifle jammed and Tourangeau drove away to report the shooting to sheriff's officers, who took Braun into custody. At the time of his arrest, officers said, Braun declared he was sorry the gun had jammed and that he had not "got" Tourangeau.

The shooting occurred about 7:45 p. m. and Braun was placed under arrest at 9:30 p. m.

Braun is to be arraigned on the assault charge in Justice Henry Ranguette's court either this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

John B. Nelson, Pioneer Resident Of Escanaba, Dead

John B. Nelson, 86, 1409 Seventh avenue south, early day resident of Escanaba, and a building contractor and carpenter in the community for many years, died Saturday evening at 6:45 after a long illness. A stroke which he suffered a week ago was the direct cause of death.

He was born in Sunne, Varmaland, Sweden, November 26, 1862, and had lived in Escanaba and vicinity for 65 years. After coming to this country he was located at Cedar River where the old log mill was in operation and also lived in Gladstone for a short time assisting in the laying of the Soo Line tracks.

He was a member of the North Star lodge.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Eric (Signe) Norling of Chicago and Mrs. Algot (Inez) Gustafson of Escanaba; one grandchild and one sister, Miss Marie Nelson in Sweden. Mrs. Nelson died July 21, 1946.

Services will be held at the Anderson funeral home chapel at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Rev. Clifford Peterson of Gladstone officiating, and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Friends of the family may call at the funeral home beginning this evening.

Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

The way things are going now, World War III is fast approaching. When and if the Reds capture Canton, I believe they'll go for French Indo-China, crying against foreign imperialism. Then Siam, Malaya, Indonesia—and Burma must look pretty ripe to them too.

Widely-Traveled Don Cossacks To Sing In Escanaba

The original Don Cossack chorus and dancers, under the direction of Serge Jaroff, currently on their 20th anniversary tour of the United States, will sing in W. W. Oliver auditorium at Escanaba the evening of Sept. 28—rounding out more than 2,000,000 miles of travel in this country.

Originally organized in an army camp in Constantinople in 1920, they are all now American citizens and some of them are members of the American Legion.

In Escanaba they are expected to accept an invitation of the Cloverland Post of the American Legion to attend an after-concert get-together in Legion hall. An open-house program will be held by the Legion in their honor.

Recognized as one of the outstanding musical organizations in the world, the Don Cossacks add Slavic dances like the exciting kazatski to their routines. The Cossacks have worn their traditional beards, all but four are married, and they know the United States very well after two million miles

In the 20 years since the Cossacks have been singing in this country some of the old charter members have retired according to regulations self-imposed by the chorister—but there are no resignations. None has sought other endeavors.

The Don Cossacks will come to Escanaba from Marquette. The sale of tickets for the concert here is now starting. There are no reserved seats.

Billion In Arms Aid Voted Under Atlantic Treaty

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Two Senate committees today jointly stamped formal approval on a $1,314,010,000 plan for re-arming friendly nations against communism.

The final vote—20 to 3—cleared the way for the arms bill to go to the senate. There it faces another fight by a group determined to make a deep cut in the total spending.

The senate foreign relations and armed services committees voted for this arms program:

$1,000,000,000 for the North Atlantic pact nations — divided 50-50 between cash and contract authorization and with some restriction on use of the cash.

$211,370,000 for Greece and Turkey.

$27,640,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

$75,000,000 to aid anti-communists in China with President Truman to spend the money where he sees fit without making any report to Congress.

The bill is in the form of an authorization. Funds must be provided later by appropriation.

Jackson Industrialist And Wife Perish In Summer Mansion Fire

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 12 (AP) — An elderly industrialist and his wife were burned to death in a weekend fire that razed their lavish summer mansion.

The victims were G. Stanley Porter, 63, chairman of the board of Argus, Inc., camera manufacturers, and his wife, Marguerite, 62.

Fire Marshal Glenroy Walker said he would confer with the State Police commissioner today to decide whether the possibility of arson should be investigated further. He said there was nothing to indicate foul play.

The fire at the nine-room $40,000 residence on Clark Lake was discovered by three fishermen. The cause was not determined.

Porter's body, clad in nightclothes, was found near doors leading to a porch. His wife lay dead in a bedroom.

The couple's maid said there had been guests Saturday evening but they left at 9:30 p. m. — almost two hours between the fire broke out. The maid was sleeping in a garage apartment.

Sheep-Killing Bear Shot Near Lake City

Lake City, Sept. 12. (AP)—A 500-pound sheep-killing bear, which for two years has eluded traps set by Missaukee county farmers, was tracked down and killed near here Saturday.

The chase proved an authentic curtain-raiser for Sunday's fourth annual national bear hunt field trials held at Cadillac.

Aaron Vanden Boss, of Falmouth, felled the huge bear with three shots after a pack of bear hounds owned by Carl T. Johnson and George Nystrom of Cadillac had trailed it for several miles.

The bear dressed out at 400 pounds and measured eight feet in length. Sheep owners believe the animal responsible for raids which had caused the death of at least 80 sheep over a two-year period.

Blood Plasma Program Told

Dr. McInerney Is Rotary Speaker

The Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting today noon viewed a moving picture on the creation of blood banks and heard Dr. Tom McInerney describe the value of plasma and blood derivatives in saving lives of the injured and the ill.

Donors of blood for plasma to be used in Delta county are now being recruited by the American Red Cross in cooperation with the state health department. A mobile blood bank unit of the health department will be in Escanaba Sept. 19 to 21, and in Gladstone Sept. 22 and 23.

The Rotary club at its program this noon also inducted into membership John Taggart of the Escanaba Paper Company, and Erling Arntzen, Escanaba building contractor.

The club had as its guests Clarence Moore, physical therapist of the Escanaba city schools, who was in charge of the Rotary day camp for crippled children at Ford River last summer, and members of the day camp staff, including the following:

Senior Counselors Miss Jean Beck, Mrs. Knopp, Miss Edith Harrington; Junior Counselors Miss Barbara O'Donnell and Miss Jacqueline Van Effien; and Don Wickholm, who taught swimming and assisted in woodcrafts.

Don't Kid Public, Governor Tells State Treasurer

Lansing, Sept. 12 (AP)—Governor Williams today accused State Treasurer D. Hale Brakey of "trying to kid the taxpayer" by implying that economy can materially reduce the state's expected deficit.

Williams commented on Brakey's reply to the governor's question "What shall we do when we run out of money?"

Quoting State Controller Robert F. Steadman, a Democrat, as saying the Republican state treasurer has the responsibility of finding money to pay the state bills, Williams said:

"The state treasurer apparently accepts the full responsibility for finding cash in the event there is a period when certain funds are exhausted. He is evidently willing to engage in deficit financing including 'delaying payment of bills.'"

"I am opposed to such expedients," Williams continued. "When the state fails to pay its bills on time, it simply borrows by force from creditors who can not help themselves. A financial policy which delays balancing the budget until we are forced to consider such things is a poor policy. I think the affairs of the state of Michigan should be conducted in a business-like manner and we should balance its budget and should pay its bills on time."

Vice President Speaks Of Love In Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 12. (AP)—Vice President Barkley says "Anybody who would come from St. Louis to Chicago must be in love, uh—with Chicago."

The vice president, who has been linked romantically with a 37-year-old St. Louis widow, made the remark at a Democratic picnic yesterday after Governor Stevenson told him he would always get in Chicago a welcome "as warm as it is in St. Louis."

Later on, Barkley drew a Chicago woman's ticket as the winner in an automobile raffle. He read the name and address but told the crowd of 10,000 he was keeping the telephone number to himself.

Mayor Kennelly, 62-year-old bachelor, said the least Barkley should do, in that case, would be to give the mayor a St. Louis phone number.

Barkley said okay, he'd give the mayor one in St. Louis, but Barkley would decide which one he'd give.

Paraguay Changes President Peacefully

The new president, who formerly was foreign minister, designated an all-civilian cabinet containing the majority of men who had served with Lopez.

Chaves' rise to the presidency grew out of an internal upheaval in the Colorado party, the only legal party in Paraguay. The change-over was accomplished without disorder.

It was the sixth change of administration in Paraguay in 17 months.

Reds Set Back In South China

Nationalists Claim String Of Victories

Canton, Sept. 12 (AP)—Red setbacks on all south China fronts were claimed today by a spokesman for the ministry of National defense.

He pictured the Communists as retreating in Hunan and Shensi provinces.

An army spokesman said Jucheng, 170 miles north of Canton, had been retaken by the Nationalists. Tzehsing, 195 miles north of Canton, also has been retaken, the defense ministry spokesman said.

The Nationalist position east of Canton on the Hankow railroad was reported improved.

An attempt by the Communists to land on Pingtan Island south-east of Foochow, the fallen capital of Fukien, was beaten back with heavy losses, a spokesman said.

At Changtai, 25 miles north-west of Amoy, another Red attack was said to have been beaten back. A Nationalist counterattack from Tungan, 25 miles north of Amoy was said to be making progress.

Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, Central China commander, arrived in Canton yesterday. He said he was more optimistic than ever over the Central China situation. He predicted a big battle soon in his area but said he was confident of the outcome.

in private plans would be made."

Total $100 A Month

Noting that the house ways and means committee has approved a broadened social security plan, the board mentioned that there seems little prospect of getting this, or proposed health insurance legislation, approved any time soon.

So, meanwhile, said the board: "Social security and pensions should be considered a part of normal business costs to take care of temporary and permanent depreciation in the human 'machine' in much the same way as provision is made for depreciation and insurance of plant and machinery."

This obligation should be among the first charges on revenues."

There was a time of "unenlightened social opinion in this country," the board said, "when it was felt that the needs of workers for insurance against the insecurities of modern economic life was the concern of nobody but the worker himself—or of charity."

But in this generation, it said, "That philosophy has been rejected by overwhelming public opinion—and by most of industry itself. Today it has been generally been accepted that the worker is entitled to insurance against at least some of these hazards."

The board recognized that pension-insurance plans established by collective bargaining would result in greatly varying forms of such insurance as between groups of workers. But it said that would have to do until congress steps in to enact a uniform plan such as in the present social security program.

The board's report said the money it recommended for steelworker pensions should be enough to provide $100 monthly payments when social security benefits are included.

try have told the President they would continue operations at least until September 25 as he requested. But their decision won't mean a thing unless the steelworkers report for work. CIO steelworkers in four states, where strike ballots are required before a walkout, have voted 15 to one for a strike if necessary, the union says.

The five major steel companies who comprise the Big Five are U. S. Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel Company, Republic Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Inland Steel, however, has begun gradual slow-down operations. The company said it would follow through with its program by starting to close 36 open hearths at noon Tuesday but that sizable layoffs would begin today. The plant, which employs 17,000 produces about 11,000 tons of steel daily.

Former Nazi Justice Is Suicide In Lake

Munich, Germany, Sept. 12 (AP)—The chief judge of the Nazi party supreme court, Reichsleiter Walter Buch, committed suicide by slashing his wrists and jumping into Ammer Lake, Bavarian state police announced today.

Buch was adjudged a major offender in two denazification trials. At the second trial last July, however, the Munich Appellate court reduced his forced-labor sentence from five years to the time he had already been under arrest—3½ years.

Buch presided when the Nazi party supreme court conducted a secret investigation of the slaughter of more than 100 Jews in a Germany-wide program Nov. 8, 1938.

Buch was playing with matches and paper with a small brother and sister.

48 hours is required to bring about the orderly closing of a steel plant.

U. S. Steel Corporation and more than 50 other steel plants in the Pittsburgh district have another strike to worry about, in addition to the one called by the steelworkers. At 6:30 a. m. Tuesday (Eastern standard time) the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is scheduled to strike on the union railroad.

The railroad is a vital interplant connecting line which serves all subsidiaries of U. S. Steel in the Pittsburgh district, along with many other steel plants. If the 1200 BRT members strike U. S. Steel says it will have to lay off 30,000 men. And the other plants will have to furlough some 20,000 employees.

There's no wage dispute between the railroad and the BRT. It's simply a matter of interpreting work rules. The Brotherhood and railroad have been negotiating for months. A Presidential fact finding board which reported July 29 recommended arbitration. The railroad agreed. The union refused and a spokesman says a strike tomorrow is inevitable.

But U. S. Steel and the other steel companies are more interested at the moment in what the powerful Steelworkers Union will decide today.

In suggesting the 10-cent hourly package on Saturday, the President's board flatly rejected the steelworkers' demands for the fourth general wage boost since the end of World War II. The 10-cent figure would cover pensions and insurance, the Board said.

Both company and union sources expressed belief the Board's recommendations hold the skeleton around which the meat of an acceptable settlement might be laid.

Not Doing Badly

Union demands for a 30-cent hourly package, covering a wage boost as well as pensions and insurance, brought the country to the brink of a steel strike last July. Those demands were flatly refused by industry.

President Truman averted that work stoppage when he got both sides to agree to a 60-day truce while a Presidential Board investigated the dispute and prepared recommendations which would not be binding on either side.

That was the Board which gave its eagerly anticipated report during the weekend. It ruled out a wage increase on economic grounds. The panel said a steel pay hike might lead to similar jumps in other industries. The Board also felt steelworkers weren't doing too badly on pay rates, compared with other unionists. The men who make steel average $3.65 hourly.

Union sources saw victory for labor in the Board's decision that pensions are bargainable under the Taft-Hartley act, and in the proposal that companies bear the costs of insurance and pension programs.

The recommendation against a wage increase is hard for union leaders to swallow but past statements of Murray have been interpreted to mean he put pension and insurance objectives ahead of wages this year.

Escanaba Has Too Many Speeders

THE speed with which motorists race down Ludington street and through residential streets in Escanaba, particularly in the evenings, leaves no room for doubt why there are so many traffic accidents and so many motoring tragedies.

We have heard it said many times by outsiders visiting here that Escanaba has more crazy drivers for the size of the city than most any other community you can name in the United States. This may be an exaggeration because we've seen plenty of crazy drivers in other cities, too, but local residents will concede that we have at least our share of motor maniacs.

Parked in front of the Escanaba Junior high school the other evening, we watched car after car race down Ludington street at speeds of 35, 40 and 45 miles an hour, some of them zig zagging through traffic as if they were running an obstacle course. The screech of brakes as cars buzzed around corners on two wheels was heard frequently in a short period of time.

Something will surely have to be done about checking the wild riding of local motorists. We are familiar with the fact that some motorists have been ticketed for speeding and that they have been fined in justice court, but that still has not materially reduced the wild driving. A more vigorous drive against speeders and perhaps heavier fines are needed to curb this practice.

Perhaps the situation requires an adequate motoring patrol of the city streets.

Wisconsin Motorists Oppose Signalling

WISCONSIN motorists are shrieking in protest against the new state law requiring drivers to give signals before slowing, stopping or turning in traffic. The Milwaukee chief of police, John W. Polyn, has already appealed for repeal of the law.

The new Wisconsin law is a complicated one, much like the Michigan signalling law of years ago. It requires the driver to extend his hand and arm horizontally for a left turn, upward for a right turn and downward to indicate stopping or slowing in traffic.

Wisconsin motorists, however, are not merely protesting that the new signal law is complicated. They are opposed to any kind of a hand signal, or for that matter, to any signalling, manual or mechanical.

Michigan law, which traditionally has required signalling of some kind, provides only for one signal—a horizontal extension of the arm—to show that the driver intends to either turn, slow down or stop. Motorists behind him know that they must keep a safe distance away.

The confusion of different signals in different states and the lack of uniformity in all traffic regulations, highway markings, etc., should be corrected by agreement of all states. Then when a motorist moves across state lines, he knows what is expected of him and he can interpret highway signs uniformly.

Throwing Rocks Didn't Help Freedom

IN a confused affair like the recent disgraceful riot at Peekskill, N. Y., it is not easy to assign blame precisely.

Certainly the local and state police were not adequate to the occasion. They did not anticipate the heavy barrage of rocks and stones hurled from behind trees by self-styled vigilantes and tough teen-agers at departing followers of Paul Robeson, the Negro singer, after his concert was over.

One wonders, too, what was the exact role played by the "civilian security guards" brought onto the scene to protect the 15,000 concertgoers. Police say they found a large assortment of weapons in the cars of Robeson's followers. Whether these were used in the later melee is not clear; but if the police statement is accurate it suggests the pro-Robeson people were not themselves without some belligerent intent.

On the other hand, several solid facts stand out in accusation of the groups which appeared in opposition to Communist Robeson and his supporters. Altogether some 145 people received medical treatment after the uprising, and most were said to be on the Robeson side. Fortunately, only a handful were severely hurt. But bus company reports establish that 50 of the 150 buses used to transport the concertgoers were damaged, with broken windows and windshields the main result. Many private cars suffered similarly, and some were overturned.

To deplore this violence is automatic. But it isn't enough. We have to realize that the people responsible for this ugly episode were acting in the name of "Americanism" against communism, a force all good Americans oppose as destructive of their freedoms.

But to the adults who threw rocks and overturned cars at Peekskill in the "defense of their country," any decent citizen must say: "The United States neither needs nor wants such defense from you. It can hold its liberties without ever throwing a single rock at a peaceful meeting."

To the teen-agers who indulged in this same shameful attack, the good Americans can only say "I feel terribly sorry for you. Perhaps your parents are to blame for not giving you a better understanding of what freedom in this country means. America stands for many things, tough boys. But none has anything to do with rock-throwing or cat-calling."

To both young and old among the rock-throwers, the nation must say:

"You have disgraced, not helped your country. You have played right smack into the hands of the Communists, who love to be martyrs, to show their wounds as proof of the wickedness of the capitalist world."

"Until you can learn the essence of liberty in both thought and action, you deserve to remain on the sidelines in American life. You ought really to be the last to be called for the real defense of your country should it be in peril."

Bobcat Bounty Restored In U. P.

THE state conservation commission has voted 4 to 2 to restore the $5 bobcat bounty in the Upper Peninsula, effective October 1, action which will generally be met with favor from sportsmen in this area.

The bobcat is regarded as one of the worst of the predators. The conservation department removed the cat from the bounty list on recommendations of so-called game experts, who contended that the bounty has no effect upon controlling the predator. A lot of bobcats have been trapped under the bounty system and it's a good bet that if it weren't for the cat bounty, these vicious predators would increase and at the expense of game animals and birds.

The bounty on bobcat was removed July 1. Now it will be restored October 1.

UNSAFE DRIVER

(Milwaukee Journal)

The state motor vehicle department has been studying motorcoter and motorbike accidents and has concluded that there is a common factor in vehicle accidents of all kinds:

Motorcoters and motorbikes are as safe as the people who drive them.

Wisconsin had six deaths and 95 injuries in motorcoter and motorbike accidents last year. The accident reports show such conditions as the lack of headlights, lack of taillights, driving in the wrong lane, driving too fast, failing to pay attention to the road.

The most frequent cause of the 95 injuries, the state records show, is found in the accident notation "driving too fast for conditions."

It's the same old story—with motorbikes, motorcoters, motorcycles, bicycles, automobiles and everything that operates on our highways. The most frequent cause of vehicle accidents is the driver. And a driver is as guilty of being unsafe when he deliberately drives a vehicle with a mechanical defect as when he drives in the wrong lane.

Traffic laws, safe highways, safe vehicles do not mean much of anything unless the human element is also safe. More and more accident studies and accident statistics are proving that. More and more traffic experts are coming to realize that the man, or woman, behind the wheel is the all-important element in traffic safety.

The answer to the problem is evident. Drivers must be trained. Drivers must be controlled by strict license regulations that require high standards of proficiency before a driver's permit is issued and continuing proficiency if a driver's permit is to be retained. Traffic regulations must be strictly enforced by police. Penalties for violations must be strictly assessed by the courts.

The most mechanically safe vehicle in the world on the world's safest highway is a dangerous weapon if it is "loaded" with that potential killer, an unsafe and careless driver.

SOME FAMILIAR WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Kindergarten. Does your little Junior or Sister go to "kindy-garden"? There really isn't such a place, you know. The correct word is formed from the German kinder, "children," and garten, "garden." Kindergarten, in both English and German is pronounced: KIN'der-GAHR-ten.

Koala. The Koala is a small bear-like animal found in southeastern Australia. It is a marsupial (pouched), and lives on eucalyptus buds and shoots. The English pronunciation is: koe-AH-luh. The native name is Kula, pronounced: KOO-luh.

Larynx. Overheard in a physician's waiting room: "He's treating her for an infection of the LAHR-nicks." The word used is larynx, "the organ of voice." Note that the second syllable is -ynx, not "nyx." Also note that the "a" in the first syllable is flat as in Larry. Say: LAR-yn-gs.

Library. Not "LY-berry," "LY-bree," nor "LY-bur-ee." In best usage the second syllable has the short "e" sound as heard in fence of their country," any decent citizen

Franco Seeks Loan In U.S.

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—So overwhelming is America's power in the world and so uncertain is the condition of Europe that it is hard to realize here in this country the consequences of the visit of an American admiral to Generalissimo Franco in Spain. It has set up a whole series of currents that are traveling like the waves of an earthquake to the farthest boundaries of power.

The visit of Admiral Richard L. Conolly is described in the department of defense as routine. Butasmuch as Admiral Conolly is commander in chief of the United States navy forces in the Mediterranean and the Eastern Atlantic, his visit to Spain as commander of a four-ship squadron cannot be written off in that fashion.

Certainly, Franco is not writing it off. It is being propagandized for all it's worth, and probably more, to try to convince the world that the United States is coming to the rescue of Spain's rapidly worsening economy.

For many months that has been the goal of Franco and the little clique around him that exercises such tight control over all of Spanish life—to get an American loan. Since Spain has no ambassador in Washington, as a result of the United Nations resolution withdrawing all chiefs of mission from Madrid, that is the mission here of the mysterious Jose F. Delequeria.

PROPAGANDA FOR FRANCO

Officially an inspector in the Spanish foreign service with the rank of ambassador, Delequeria has been here for nearly a year and a half directing an insistent propaganda in behalf of Franco. He has been the power behind the hiring of influential Washington lawyers including Max O'Rell Truitt, son-in-law of Vice President Barkley.

The immediate goal is to get a group of senators to visit Spain in the course of a European tour to see how ECA money is being spent. Delequeria has extended an official invitation to the senators, members of the appropriations committee, and Madrid is now reported officially on their schedule.

But within the committee there has been considerable resistance to the inclusion of Spain, which does not receive American aid. Sen. Harley Kilgore of West Virginia argued that the time of the group could be much better spent in countries where Marshall plan money is now going.

While this effort to woo the United States is going on, curiously enough at the same time a violent anti-U. S. propaganda is carried on in the Spanish radio. This is aimed at South America where the influence of Spanish Fascism is directed against the United States in a variety of ways.

ATTACKED TRUMAN

A month ago the Madrid radio carried the text of an article from Aribba, the official paper of the Falange party, attacking President Truman as the head of a plot of Free Masonry against the Roman Catholic church. President Truman, as the article pointed out, holds the 33rd and highest degree of Masonry. The broadcast article declared:

"The recognition of the state of Israel, its inclusion in the United Nations, the hypocritical and unfair behavior toward Spain, circumstantial enmity to the Argentine, the systematic opposition to Catholics holding senior posts in the field of justice or in the government of the state, and the major decisions in the national and international field are exclusive due to the dictate of Free Masonry."

This same broadcast led off with an attack on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as a result of her controversy with Cardinal Spellman. She was referred to as "This old Free Mason woman" who had influenced "the presidential decisions taken against the interest of the United States as outlined by its general staff."

Other attacks on Mrs. Roosevelt were even more violent in tone. In fact, they were so extreme that they are reported to have created an adverse reaction in Spain.

With all political and ideological considerations to one side, the best case that can be made for aid to Spain is by military men who consider the Pyrenees Mountains as a line of defense that would enable American armies to keep a foothold in the Iberian Peninsula. But this concept of defense against Russian armies horrifies France and the Benelux countries, since it implies another occupation and another "liberation" with destruction on a far greater scale than in 1944-45.

These countries would be reluctant to pool their strength in a defense council based on such a plan. Thus, even as a military concept, aid to Spain has its drawbacks.

breh-ree.

Margaret-Marguerite. The name Marguerite is the French form of Margaret, which is from the Latin word Margarita, literally, "a pearl." It is not uncommon to hear Marguerite pronounced "MAHR-guh-yoo-REET." But there is no "yoo" sound in the second syllable. You see, the French spelling "gue" indicates that the "g" is hard, as in such words as rogue, vague, baguette. Therefore, the "u" is silent. Marguerite is correctly pronounced: MAHR-guh-REET.

Margaret is pronounced: MAHR-guh-rit.

Pamphlet. The origin of the word pamphlet is uncertain. There are almost as many theories as there are authorities—and there isn't room here to discuss them all.

However, a theory shared by Merriam Webster's and the Encyclopedia Britannica is that the word pamphlet evolved, in a rather roundabout way, from the Latin Pannphilius, the name of a 12th century poem which was so widely circulated in leaflet form that the leaflets became known as Pannphiliets, a diminutive of Old French origin. This entered Middle English as pamphlet, then pamphlet, pamphlet, and finally pamphlet.

It is worthy of note that pamphlet is often misspelled "pamphlet" and "pam-piet."

The correct pronunciation is: PAM-flet.

Modern Community
Near Arctic Circle

By ESTHER TUFTY

Rovaniemi, Finland—So this is Lapland, the land of reindeer and Northern lights.

Never did I expect in my wanderings to hit a town where the hot political issue is: Let's put our city inside the Arctic Circle!

Located just five miles from the Circle, the local residents are sensitive about the exclusion. One political faction argues since the Circle was originally designated as the portion upon which shines the Northern Lights, then it is proper the town be included. The magic arc is discernible even at this season.

Our party of British and American reporters had another surprise.

Has Modern Hotel

We had heard of the 90 per cent destruction job the retreating Germans had done on the Northern Lapland area of Finland, and we expected some very crude hotel arrangements.

But our eyes popped when our airport-bus rolled up to a brand new modernistic hotel with some innovations unknown in the states.

In our private dining room was a fire roaring in a rough fireplace with a broad niche filled with scarlet geraniums, a favorite and frequently seen flower of Finland.

The Finnish spread included such delicacies as smoked mountain trout and thin slices of reindeer meat which resembled dried beef. The cocktail was a pleasant blend of aqua vite with a Yakkki berry doing olive duty.

The city council threw a lunch for us the next day that could only be called swish in any city. Course after course came... and then we moved on to the governor's house near by for coffee and cakes.

Told Marshall Story

The deputy mayor, the gaunt, sincere Vaino Kosonen, welcomed us formally. He referred to an often told story in Finland about General George Marshall.

Our former secretary of state once said in a Finnish bath that Finland has been kicked around like a football during the war, first by the Russians and then by the Germans.

In Lapland one is more conscious of their second war the Finns fought when they were forced to fight against the German army which had helped them defend their land against the Russians. Naturally, the Germans were furious and as they retreated to Norway they burned, bombed, and laid flat all this part of Finland. By some unusual impulse they left standing one rather large yellow and white painted church at Kittila, which we saw on our way north to the Arctic Circle. An entire city lived in it later. If General Marshall came to Lapland today, he would credit these war-hit Finns with a touchdown for their recovery.

Esther Tufty

Lived In Huts

When the first evacuees returned in 1945, they lived in caves and little huts of cardboard. Governor Wuno Hannula issued a proclamation forbidding children to come back... but today he brags about the Finnish courage that answered by building a schoolhouse.

Nearly every building is now up here beyond the timberline. The designs, many by famous Finnish architect, Alvar Aalto, have beauty of line. (Aalto laid out design for the city of Rovaniemi.) Tops in functional furniture, the light woods give a bright touch. This is especially fortunate in children's hospital for tuberculosis, one of the aftermath diseases striking five children a day. The building-Laplanders are grateful to UNRRA and the Quakers who early rushed to their aid but are fiercely proud of their own ability to stage a comeback.

You don't need a pin-up figure to look well dressed, says Dorothy O'Hara. The former movie designer thinks any woman, fat or lean, can look smart if she takes advantage of a few tricks used in film studios.

"A common mistake is the use of the round waistline or belt," she says. "The round line cuts the figure in half, making the short woman look even shorter and plumper."

"V-shaped waistslines, in addition to making a woman look taller, are adaptable to both short-waisted and long-waisted types. The v-neckline likewise adds to the illusion of a long unbroken line."

"The slim skirt," says Dorothy, "is the most flattering to most women. A peplum over the hips gives the thin girl curves, hides the plump girl's poundage. An inverted pleat in the skirt allows a girl to walk normally without detracting from the slim waistline effect."

Actresses, she points out, must have costumes they can get into quickly without spoiling makeup and hairdos. They use full-length zippers so that they can step into their dresses.

Built-In Undies Is New Trick Of Fashion

By GLORIA YARBROUGH (For Bob Thomas)

Hollywood Sept. 12 (AP)—Dresses with built-in underwear are Marusia's latest enthusiasm.

"When bra and slip are part of the dress," says the Polish designer, "there is no problem of finding appropriate underclothing to match the gown."

These are chiefly cocktail or dinner frocks, intended for dry-cleaning.

Marusia, who clothes such screen attractions as Paulette Goddard, Roz Russell, Dinah Shore, Mrs. Ray Milland and Joan Fontaine, has just returned from a style-viewing trip to France.

"Prices are much too high in Paris," she reported. "Wives of many designers can't afford the creations of their husbands. Americans buy them."

Designs, too, are much too extreme, in Marusia's opinion. "French women don't mind having yards of material billowing around them because they aren't figure-conscious like American women. Of course, fashions aren't created for young girls with nice figures. The matrons are the style leaders."

Marusia leaves soon to show her fall and winter line of dresses in key American cities. She travels with one model. Sometimes Marusia shows all her dresses herself.

"I can model about 80 dresses in 45 minutes," the vivacious blonde claimed, "because all are the step-in type, with long zippers."

The fur necklace should rate tops among fads this season, says Mary Kay Dodson, Paramount designer. These, styled along choker lines, can be made of your favorite fur. Spats, too, will be prominent in new wardrobes, she predicts. Starlet Rhonda Fleming wears bright plaid spats and matching beret.

Contest Nears End

Although there is still much good fishing left in 1949, especially for the bass and pike fishermen, the time is fast approaching for winding up the 1949 Daily Press Fishing Contest. The contest ends on Thursday, September 15. All entries must be in at the Daily Press office or be mailed early enough so that they will bear a post mark not later than September 15 to be eligible.

So, if you have been holding an entry back in hopes of catching a bigger fish, don't wait too long. Get those entries into the mail now.

The contest is open to all anglers—men, women and children—who catch fish in public waters of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The prime requirement is that your big fish be caught with hook and line by the use of legal bait. Pictures of the fish will be of help in judging but are not essential.

There are separate classes for the various species of fish with prizes going to anglers catching the largest in each class. There are no entry fees.

Entry blanks may be secured from the Daily Press offices or by mail on request from this department.

Blood Donor Hours Listed

Registration Deadline Is Sept. 14

Mrs. Norman Lindquist, chairman of the American Red Cross Blood Plasma Drive, today announced the hours the mobile unit will accept blood donations in Escanaba at the Junior high school. On Sept. 19 the hours will be from 1 to 3 p. m. and 5 to 7 p. m.; Sept. 20, from 2 to 4 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m.; Sept. 21, 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. Registered donors will receive appointment cards indicating the time they are to give their donation.

To simplify registrations, a replica of the registration card will appear in the next three issues of the Press, and may be filled out and mailed or taken to the Red Cross office in Escanaba, or to the Empson Insurance company office in Gladstone. This means of registering will enable persons in outlying districts to register without coming to registration headquarters, and will mean they will only have to make one trip to Escanaba or Gladstone, the day they donate a pint of blood. Residents of Escanaba and Gladstone may also avail themselves of this means of registering. The deadline for all registrations is Sept. 14, so that all facilities for the blood donations may be efficiently planned.

The State Health Department Mobile blood plasma unit is coming to Delta County so that the residents of this county may replenish the exhausted supply of plasma. Every pint of blood taken here will be credited to the county and may be used as needed, free of charge to any person needing it. The need is urgent, and any person between the ages of 18 and 60, in good health, can donate a pint of blood.

Assisting the Red Cross workers and the medical and nursing staffs of the Mobile Unit, will be 30 volunteer workers from the Escanaba PTA Council. There are five PTA units in Escanaba, and six members from each council have volunteered to assist in filling out cards, preparing the fruit juice, coffee and lunch each donor receives after the blood donation is completed.

Flint Packing Plant
Robbed Of $24,000

Flint—(P)—Four armed robbers smashed open the safe at the Wolf Packing Co. Thursday night, took $24,000 and bound the night watchman.

David Wolf, the owner, said he believed the thugs were familiar with the plant and that they might have intended to shoot him.

This is the story E. J. Loflin, the watchman, told police:

The four gunmen, armed with revolvers, broke open a door and entered the plant through a cattle chute.

"Where is Dave?" they asked Loflin.

The watchman said the owner would be back any time.

"Good, we'll fix him," one of the men said.

The thugs spent half an hour cracking the safe. Before leaving with the contents, they bound Loflin and shoved him into a refrigerator truck. When he protested that he would suffocate, they let the door open.

Loflin eventually managed to free himself from the bonds. He went to a nearby restaurant and called police.

Old Timers Play Real Ball But-'Stique Cards Take 13-9 Edge

Mahistique Sept. 12—A sports event of special interest here Sunday afternoon was the specially arranged baseball game between the Cardinals of the Rainbow League and "old timers" . . . men who played in this area when baseball was "semi-pro."

The "old timers" lost the game to the Cards 13-9 but put up a good scrap all the way through.

When the game opened at 2:30 p. m., at city diamond, Ed Foye, Marquette catcher; Bill Vassau, Manistique pitcher; Joe Griffin, Cooks pitcher; Harry Alley, second baseman from Grand Marais; Bill Norton, Manistique catcher; Dude Ranguette, veteran utility man from Nahma, and George Danko, first baseman from Houghton, were present and in uniform.

Other "old timers" who were in the game Sunday and remembered for their ability on the diamond were Omer Schuster, Mel Chartier, John Berish, Harvey Ekdahl, Joe Karnich, Bob Harbin and Bob Marks, Earl Kane, Tony Popish, Jim Hoholik, Norm Brown and Ed Toyra.

Omer Schuster was first to bat in the game, and rapped the first pitch for a two-bagger which scored the first run for the old timers. Schuster says, "That would have been a hom-run, but I was out of steam and had to rest on second."

Old Timers' Lead
The Cards retaliated with two runs in the first inning and six in the second. Then the old timers returned and took three runs in both the third and fourth innings. From then on the game was in earnest.

The Cards held favor with eight runs against the old timers' seven, but lost in the next inning, when the old timers grabbed a 9-8 lead. It didn't last long for the popular old timers, though. In the seventh the snappy Cards chalked up four runs and in the eighth added another. The game ended with the following tally:

Old Timers	9	6	9
Cardinals	13	11	6
The score by innings was:
Old Timers	103	302	000—9
Cardinals	260	000	41x—13

Batteries were as follows:
Old Timers
Pitchers—Griffin, Vassau, Chartier.
Catchers—Foye, Karnich.
Cardinals
Pitchers—Carlson, Demars, Jahn, Adams.
Catchers—Reno, Strassler, Bailey, Jr.

Umpires—Bunker, Martin.
Some of the highlights of the game, enjoyed by a large crowd right through 2 hours, 39 minutes, were:

(1) Schuster's two-bagger on the first pitch.
(2) Orville Chartier's heavy duty pitching for the old timers, along with Joe Griffin's hurling in the first and Bill Vassau's in the second.

(3) Strassler's three-bagger in the seventh for the Cards, and Mel Chartier's latching onto a possible home-run hit deep in right field, for the old timers.

"Home-run" Rhoades was hit by a pitched ball in the fourth, and had to be taken out of the game.

Ed Foye, who used to catch in semi-pro games in Upper Michigan, says that both Joe Griffin and Bill Vassau were ace pitchers when he played the circuit, and you can bet they showed some of the old stuff in the game Sunday.

When it was over, Charles Hart, an ex-fireman from Chicago, summed up, "That was a real ball game."

Gladstone Spanks St. Joe 11

2,500 See
Braves Gain
Revenge, 27-7

LaPlant, Creten
Star; Miron Lugs
Trojan Load

Sparked by the hard running of halfback Larry LaPlant and the pass snatching ability of rangy Phil Creten, the Gladstone Braves defeated the St. Joseph Trojans 27 to 7 in a game played under lights at Memorial Field Saturday night.

A capacity crowd of 2,500 was on hand to watch a good Gladstone team roll over the Trojans and win this opener for their new coach Don Pfotenbauer and also gain revenge for the 19 to 13 defeat they were handed last year by the Parochials. This team showed definitely that they would not be the victim of another sour season of lickings they had to absorb last year.

Operating behind a solid, fast-charging line, the Gladstone backs ripped through the Trojan forward wall almost at will with the elusive Larry LaPlant alternating with powerful Ralph McGeary lugging the piskin.

St. Joe Line Weak
On the other side, the Trojans played a spirited game but lacked the weight and experience to cope with the visitors' attack. The main difference between the teams centered in the lines and St. Joe backs were literally smeared as the Braves came pounding through the middle. Jack Miron, fullback for the locals, was a standout both on offense and defense in addition to his punting and passing chores.

Gladstone elected to receive the opening kickoff and proceeded to rack up three successive first downs as they penetrated to the St. Joe 35 only to lose the ball on a fumble by Buddy Clark, right halfback. Neither team could gain considerably until the closing minutes of the first quarter when, after a double exchange of punts, Buddy Clark hauled in Miron's kick near midfield and sped to the 34 from where quarterback Dick Stadel hit left end Phil Creten with a pass on the 20 and Phil scampered over the goal, only to have the score recalled on a clipping penalty. Not to be denied however, the Braves gained back the 15 yards penalty loss with LaPlant circling the right end to the 34. At this point Larry tossed another to Creten for the initial score. A placekick attempt for the point was wide.

13-0 Lead At Half
The second Gladstone score followed a few minutes later with LaPlant gaining from the 30 to the Trojan 46 on a handoff from Stadel and a first down. McGeary cracked the center to the 28, culminated by a LaPlant to Creten pass to the 13 and a touchdown toss from Dick Stadel to right end Jim Schram. Dick Sidveck's placement was perfect and the half ended soon after with Gladstone leading by 13-0.

Taking the kickoff to open the third quarter, the Braves began another march to the Trojan 37, only to lose possession on a fumble rerecovered by Don Paulin, St. Joe halfback. Three line plays netted but two yards and Miron was forced to punt to the visitors' 30 where LaPlant returned to the 43. At this point the LaPlant-McGeary combine went into high gear and in eight plays this duo had racked up four first downs, climaxed by Larry's jaunt around left end to score from the 5. Again Sidveck split the uprights to swell the count to 20-0.

With lightning speed the Gladstone Braves continued to pour it on and just three plays later left tackle Bob Cole leaped into the air to snag a pass from Wayne Papipeau intended for Billy Baker. After two line plays gained but little it was the outstanding LaPlant again on the tossing end of a touchdown pass to Jim Schram from the 30. Again Dick Sidveck converted and the score mounted to 27-0.

Miron Goes Over
At this point the game lapsed into a seige of wild and loose football marked by numerous fumbles and penalties. With but five minutes of play remaining, Trojan quarterback A. Dufour recovered a Gladstone fumble on the visitor's 46 to set up their only marker. On a Dufour-to-Baker pass, fullback Ralph McGeary was guilty of interference and the Trojans moved to the 30 and a first down.

At this point Jack Miron took command, commencing with a pass to Dufour on the 21, climaxed by three running plays, last of which resulted in his touchdown smash from the seven. Don Paulin crashed through right tackle to add the point and the scoring ended at 27-7.

With his reserves taking over the closing minutes of the game must have been a pleasing sight for Coach Don Pfotenbauer as he half-time lead.

Munising had the edge over Marquette in the second half, but its effectiveness was marred considerably by fumbling. The invaders played consistently good ball.

The home eleven scored its lone touchdown in the third quarter when Arch Gamelin plunged over from the three-yard line after a sustained drive and Steinhoff added the extra point.

Earhart Runs 42
Yards For TD
In 4th Quarter

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 12 (P)—Ralph Earhart scampered 42 yards for a last quarter touchdown yesterday to give the Green Bay Packers a 7-3 National Football League exhibition victory over the New York Bulldogs.

A crowd of 5,000 fans sat through a drizzle to watch the two clubs battle without a score through two quarters. Nick Scollard booted a 55-yard field goal for New York in the third period and it looked as if the kick would bring victory until Earhart was sprung loose.

Halfback Earhart made this winning dash in the last five minutes of the game.

Scollard's field goal was the longest in the history of the National football league. However, since the game was an exhibition it will not be entered on the record books. Glenn Pressnell's 53-yard boot for the Detroit Lions in the 1930's stands as the record.

That's What Connie Mack Said; A's Could Decide Flag; Beat Bosox Twice

(By The Associated Press)

Doff your lid to Connie Mack. The old boy hit it right on the nose when he said his Philadelphia A's could decide the American league race.

"They'll have to beat the A's first," he said last week. He wasn't kidding. Yesterday he proved it for the benefit of the Boston Red Sox, who suffered two shocking setbacks at Shibe Park.

The Sox, only a half game behind New York Saturday afternoon after the Yanks lost the first game of a doubleheader to Washington, now are three full games back. Furthermore, they have only 15 to play.

Boston belted the A's 14 out of 20 this season until they blew yesterday's pair, 6-4 and 4-0. It may have cost them the pennant, however, Mr. Mack's gang also has three more dates with the Yankees in its last week of the season.

New York took care of Washington, 20-5 and 2-1, setting a new major league record in the opener by drawing 11 bases on balls from the Senators' "pitchers" during a 12-run rally in the third inning. The second game was called because of darkness

Menominee "Mike" Mead's plans for a reunion of the 1904 Escanaba high school football squad, champions of the state of Michigan, no less, are coming along swimmingly. (Use of the word swimmingly has no reference to the weather over the weekend).

Working with him on the committee are such live-wires as Charlie Good, Olie Thatcher and John Welch. In case you're not up on this project, the boys are planning to get together here Saturday, Oct. 1, before, during and after the Escanaba-Menominee high school football game. Dinner at the Delta hotel is the "piece de resistance" after the game.

"I've had many favorable replies," Dr. Mead reports. "Bill 'Brick' Slaughter, Horace 'Bum' Atkins, E. F. 'Tommy' Hught, H. Bessex, J. W. Woodhams, Henry 'Honey' Sullivan, G. R. Hessel, Cassius McEwen, Henry Olmsted and Frank Nugent are among those who have said they'd be there for sure. Haven't located John Loell yet—help, help!"

"Incidentally, Jim, the dinner isn't restricted only to men of that 1904 squad. Anyone interested is more than welcome to attend."

Cuff notes: Thanks to Spence Pohlman, Blaney Park golf professional, for a complete report on the U. P. Open held there yesterday but we can't say anything good about Joe Buchanas and Ed Dreier for mugging the advance publicity job entirely. The Blaney Park management should have been a lot more interested in its own Upper Peninsula-wide meet then it apparently was.

Not being a member of the U. P. Golf association, it was lucky to get the meet in the first place. . . . There was no advance publicity on the meet except what we dug up for a yarn last week. . . . Maybe Buchanas isn't interested in Upper Peninsula business.

The advance season ticket sale is underway at Escanaba high school. . . . All you have to do is contact the activities office at the senior high school. . . . That is George Ruwitt's office next to Principal Edward E. Edick's office. . . . Just for the record, Eskey colors are not being changed. . . . They're still the Orange and Black. . . . Once you see that blue-silver-grey combination you've been hearing about, you'll like it very much. . . . The Eskymos will make their home debut in their new attire against Ironwood this Saturday afternoon.

Bettenhausen Winner In Detroit Auto Race

Detroit, Sept. 12 (P)—Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., today pocketed first money of more than $5,000 in the 100-mile Detroit auto race.

The stocky Illinois driver, whose time was one hour, 14 minutes and 50.6 seconds, beat out Travis (Spider) Webb of Dayton, Ohio, by about 10 seconds yesterday.

Ferrier Cops K-C Golf Go

Big Jim Rough Man
In Rough; 277

Kansas City, Sept. 12 (P)—Jim Ferrier is champion of the revived Kansas City open golf tournament mainly because he was the best man in the rough and on the bumpy fairways.

The heavyweight San Francisco golfer won $1,000 first prize yesterday in completing the 72 holes on the hilly swopo park public course with 277 strokes, eleven under par.

He got the final round in 70, two-under-par, after three successive 69's. As usual, Big Jim was frequently in the wooded roughs from the tees, but his iron got him close for the most consistent putting of the meet.

Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kas., needing three strokes to catch Ferrier at the start yesterday, managed a 71 for a 281 total. He earned $700.

National open champion Cary Middlecoff, who said he was quitting the tournament after carding a 76 Monday and then changed his mind, also shot a 71. It was his third straight sub-par round and gave the Memphis dentist a 285 total. He tied for third place with Dave Douglas of Newark, Del. Each won $550.

Douglas came up with the finest round of the tournament, a 6-under-par-66 that tied the course record set by Walter Blevis of Kansas City last year. Dave's brilliant iron game left him with only one putt as far away as ten feet. He made that one.

Bill Nary of Los Angeles and Otto Greiner of Baltimore, Md., tied for fifth with 286 totals. Seventh place went to Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich., with a 287.

Kiner Gets 45th, 46th Homers As Pirates Beat Cubs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 12 (P)—Ralph Kiner smashed out his 45th and 46th home runs of the season yesterday, each with one aboard, to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7 to 3 win over the Chicago Cubs. The victor broke a five-game losing streak for the floundering Pirates who have won only two of their last 15 games. Phil Masi also homered for the Buccos with one aboard in the eighth.

Pancho Gonzales To Turn Pro, Is Report

Los Angeles, Sept. 12 (P)—National tennis champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales will turn professional shortly, the times responsible source, said that Gonzales would say.

The newspaper, quoting a "responsible source," said that Gonzales will go on tour with Jack Kramer, Bobby Riggs and possibly Frank Parker, also rumored to be considering pro offers.

Gonzales gets a real test today in the Pacific southwest tennis championships.

Seeded number one, Pancho tangles with Arnold Saul, Los Angeles, who yesterday upset Marcello Del Bello of the Italian Davis Cup Squad, 8-6, 6-4. Gonzales coasted most of the way to eliminate UCLA's Gene Garrett, 612, 7-5.

Another top match today pits sixth seeded Earl Cochell of San Francisco against Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia, rated second best among the foreign contingent.

Cochell disposed of Hugh Stewart, San Marino, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, yesterday, while Drobny was idle. Bob Falkenberg, fourth seeded, advanced easily yesterday at the

Detroit Vaults Into 3rd Place

Chicago, Sept. 12 (P)—The Detroit Tigers are rapidly becoming the terror of the American league. Riding a 10-game victory streak, the Tigers have clawed their way into third place in the standings. They've won 18 out of the last 20 tilts.

A hard-fought 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Sunday enabled Detroit to squeeze Cleveland out of the third rung. The Indians lost to St. Louis. They now lie half a game behind Detroit.

Dallas Man Trying His Best To Break Baseball Chain Plan

Dallas, Sept. 12 (P)—Dick Burnett, the man with the loose purse strings, said today he would continue his fight against the baseball chains and that he's figured out a way to lick them.

Burnett saw his independent Dallas club end the Texas league season a disappointing fifth yesterday although setting a new attendance record. Immediately afterward, he announced he would sell or trade practically every man on the roster.

He took a crack at the chains by declaring: "Anyway, we cost Brooklyn, Cleveland and Cincinnati a pennant. They had to send their major leaguers down here to stop us. Fort Worth has a better ball club than Brooklyn and Tulsa is better than Cincinnati."

Brooklyn owns Fort Worth, which led the league race; Cincinnati operates Tulsa, which was second, and Cleveland operates Oklahoma City, which finished third. Shreveport, an independent, was fourth and got into the league play-offs.

Dallas led the league race for almost half the season and Burnett claimed the big league clubs sent players down in droves in order to put a stop to it.

expense of Carl Mayer, also of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-1.

It's been a good while since Detroit has been so well fixed. Even at the beginning of the season, it was evident Red Rolfe, in his first season as manager, had put new pep in the erstwhile languishing Bengals. But this is the first time Rolfe's medicine has really taken hold.

Next comes the Boston Red Sox in a two-game series at Boston starting Tuesday.

This is a crucial one.

The Sox have a two and a half game edge on the Tigers. A double victory could put Detroit pretty close to a second-place berth.

Rolfe has named Art Houtteman who has a 14-7 record, to pitch the Boston opener. But he could have just as well picked any of his other hurlers. The whole Detroit mound staff is going like wildfire.

Virgil Trucks, posting his 17th victory against 10 losses, gave up only three hits Sunday.

Even so, it wasn't until the ninth that his teammates could shove across the one run that counted. Catcher Bob Swift swatted the vital blow, sending Hoot Evers in on a snappy single.

Bill Wight, who gave up eight hits, was the losing pitcher.

In the big ninth inning, George Kell struck out. Evers singled and moved to third on Neil Berry's one-bagger. Swift nicked for two strikes before he finally connected to drive Evers home.

Ishpeming Amateur Wins U. P. Golf Open

John Bennett Has 37-37-37 At Blaney Park

Wawonowin Quartet Dethrones Esky For Team Title

Blaney Park, Sept. 12 (Special)—John Bennett, of Ishpeming, a graduate of Wawonowin Golf club caddy ranks, showed his heels to both Upper Peninsula leading professionals and amateurs as he fired three consecutive one-over-par 37s to annex the Upper Peninsula Open championship with a 111 in the 27-hole medal affair here yesterday.

In so doing, he paced the Wawonowin quartet (one pro and three amateurs) to first place in the team championship. Added to Bennett's 111 were Pro Warren Farley's 115, Bob Silas' 117 and Bill Farm's 123 for a winning 466 tally.

The Canadian Soo was second with 468 and Escanaba, 1948 champion at Iron Mountain, and Menominee Riverside were tied for third with 473. Escanaba team golfers scored as follows: Ray Hirm 114, Harry Hogan 115, John Taggart 120 and Pro Dick Knop 124. Par for the 27 holes is 103.

Canadian Pro Wins

Top pro honors went to George Hutchinson, of the picturesque Canadian Soo course, who had 38-38-37—113 to best Spence Pohlman, home pro, by one stroke. Pohlman, fighting a cold as well as par on his home course all the way, turned in three 33s to tie the Escanaba's Hirm for third, low medalist honors in the meet.

Although third behind Bennett and Hutchinson, Hirm had the honor of shooting the lowest nine-hole score of the entire tourney. He went out in one-under-par 35 in the morning but added a 41 and 38 for 114.

Hutchinson's 113 was good for $60. Pohlman picked up $40 for second place and Ishpeming's Farley and Cotton Leonard of Menominee Riverside split $45 in a tie for third place with 115s. Dick Knop, Escanaba, placed seventh in a field of 15 professionals.

Wind And Chilly

With an entry of 72 in all, biggest to date, the meet was judged a success from every standpoint. A strong wind and chilly weather hampered the field, but the rain held off long enough to miss everyone except the last four.

Escanaba was awarded the U. P. Open tournament in 1950 and the 1951 event was awarded to Manistique's Indian Lake club, which was represented here Sunday by Don St. Cyr, professional, former Escanaba amateur. St. Cyr finished fifth among the pros.

Elmer Swanson, although not a member of the Escanaba team, turned in a creditable 116 that tied him for fourth among the amateurs.

Behind Bennett (111), Hirm (114) and Hogan (115), the amateurs finished as follows:

Elmer Swanson, Escanaba, 116
Bill Towson, Norway, 116
Phil Jacobs, Jr., Soo, 116
Bob Silas, Wawonowin, 117
Bruce Christiansen, Menominee North Shore, 117
Frank Hruska, Menominee Riverside, 117

Phil Colasanti, Soo, 118
Hugh Higley, Menominee Riverside, 118

Lions Full Of Fight After 41-21 Victory Over Pitt Steelers

Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Detroit Lions returned to training camp here, full of spirit after their neat 41 to 21 victory Saturday over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In the National league exhibition contest at Roanoke, Va., the Lions struck hard and fast, running up a 38 to 7 halftime lead. Quarterback Fred Enke's passing figured in much of the scoring.

Today, Coach Alvin (Bo) McMillin launches his preparations for the exhibition tilt next Sunday with the New York Giants at Minneapolis. It will be the last of the pre-season games.

The Giants are smarting from the 20-17 beating they took Saturday from the Chicago Bears. They lost in the last two minutes.

In taking their third exhibition victory in five starts, the Lions relied chiefly on Enke and Bullet Bill Dudley, who counted 18 points personally.

The touchdowns were scored on Enke's passes to John Panelli, John Greene, Mel Groomes and Dudley, with the "Enk" himself going over on a yard sneak through the line.

Dudley also connected on five extra point conversions and added a pair of field goals from the 10 and 29 yard lines. The Lions scored on each of the first six times they got possession of the ball. Pittsburgh's touchdowns were scored by Halfbacks Don Samuel, Bobby Gage and Fullback George Papach. Runs of 50 and 80 yards by Gage helped set up the last two tallies.

Wolverine Gridders Look Plenty Sharp In Dress Rehearsal

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 12 (AP)—Coach Ben Oosterbaan took his Michigan football squad back to the practice field today for more polishing.

Not that he was displeased with Saturday's dress rehearsal in the big Michigan stadium. The ten touchdown performance, led by the blond Wolverine aerial ace, Charley Ortman, would please any coach.

It's a matter of sharpening the play here and there and adding fiber to the 1949 defensive unit.

The week's work will start slowly with the emphasis on lecture and drill and a minimum of contact work.

The squad showed its big guns to advantage Saturday in the four hour scrimmage and confirmed the high caliber of the Wolverines' offensive weapons.

Ortmann showed his usual keen passing eye and also demonstrated his improved running ability by busting out for several good runs.

At Michigan's loaded fullback spot, first Dick Kempthorn then Don Dufek drew attention. Dufek accounted for the longest run of the day when he cracked the center of the line at mid-field, shook off three tacklers and raced home for one of his touchdowns.

Ortmann showed two touchdowns. Kempthorn was effective at grinding out successive gains and also furnished two touchdowns.

Yankees Corral Two More Heavy Hitters

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees today announced the purchase of outfielder Jim Delsing and the recall of catcher Ralph Houk from their Kansas City American Association team. Both are to report immediately.

Delsing, once with the Chicago White Sox, batted .320 for Kansas City and Houk, .294.

It marked Bark River's first loss after 16 consecutive league triumphs. The Barks hadn't lost a game since dropping the first two games of the season.

It was Bill Johnson's fast ball that turned the trick Sunday. He gave up only two hits, Frank Salvage and Ben Kleiman, in posting his win over the Barks. Playing in intermittent rain, Ray Menard, Bark Hurler, was not quite up to par and was relieved in the seventh.

Belgians In Wisconsin Observe Kermess Season

Green Bay — This is kermess time in northeastern Wisconsin, and though many elderly Belgians shake their heads sadly and say the kermess isn't what it used to be, it still provides plenty of joy and laughter.

The kermess is an ancient custom which flourished in the Low Countries of Europe and was brought to northeastern Wisconsin by the original Belgian settlers about 100 years ago. Originally, the kermess was an outdoor festival and dance held to celebrate the end of the harvest, and it lasted two or three days. Today in this area it is limited largely to a Sunday afternoon dance, but many of the ancient trappings, particularly the food, still hang on.

Two Men Get Credit

A well authenticated story has it that two Belgians, one of whom could play a violin while the other performed on a slide trombone, were responsible for the first kermess in northeastern Wisconsin. Times were hard then. Many of the early settlers were discouraged and were thinking of returning to the old country.

The two musicians who lived in one of the tiny Belgian settlements northeast of Green Bay decided to hold a kermess to stimulate the flagging spirits of the others in the community. It was a great success, and soon all the communities had an annual kermess.

Lasted Until October

For many years the first kermess was held at the tiny village of Lincoln on the last Sunday in August. Kermess followed kermess at such communities as Fairland, Dykesville, Tonets, Marchand and Sugar Bush until they ended in October.

In those days the dancing began on a Sunday afternoon outside the dance hall. The dancers would perform a square dance with a keg of beer in the middle. After that they would go to the hall, and dance most of the night, quitting in time to attend mass Monday morning. The dancing would continue Monday and into Tuesday, interspersed with visits to various homes and the eating of huge quantities of food.

The most popular dish was Belgian pie, as it still is. It is made from biscuit dough with prunes in the middle and cheese on top. Even now pioneer Belgian residents drool at the thought of this dish. In addition, huge quantities of pork, beef and fowl were on hand and, of course, plenty of liquor stimulants.

Still Held On Sunday
About 30 years ago the kermess began to fade as a northeastern Wisconsin institution, though it still is held in the small communities on Sunday afternoons. Lewis Geniesse, who has found memories of the kermess of his youth, thinks he knows the reason why the festival has lost much of its appeal. He explained: "In the old days we worked hard, and we didn't have time for much fun during the year. The kermess gave us a chance to have a lot of fun at one time, to visit with our friends and to let down after a spring and summer of hard work. But when the automobile came along, people found other ways of enjoying themselves. It is too bad, because I don't think they have as much fun today as we did."

At war's end he was stationed at the dispensary at Guam until his discharge in 1946.

Returning from service, Dr. Sweany joined the staff of Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis Sanatorium and was later chest physician at the DeKalb County, Ill., Tuberculosis Sanatorium. In 1948 he completed two years residency in internal medicine at the Veterans Administration hospital at Hines, Ill. He went to the Ottawa Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Ottawa, Ill., as assistant physician, serving in that capacity until the institution was closed last month. In addition to his duties at Pinecrest, Dr. Sweany will con-

Junkets Mere Waste Of Time

Millions Are Wasted On Pleasure Trips

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—The report of the five junketing congressmen stealing a quick peek at Tokyo Rose as she was taking a bath seems about the most accurate summation of the free-loading investigative trip that I have yet encountered.

My dictionary lists the word "junket" as to feast, to entertain, to regale by feasting; to take part in entertainment or excursion. It is an accurate appraisal of a stock process of our time—the carting of people around with all bills paid for the purpose of currying favor under the guise of presenting first-hand information on any given situation.

Very little outside of fun and games ever happens on junkets, ficer candidate school. Here, too, is headquarters of the indoctrination division, air training command.

From the standpoint of the investigative value of the sponsored trip, you might say that it is almost always nil. The powers that be know you're coming; they know how long you're going to be there, what they want you to see and hear and how to control it. Just after the war, in Yugoslavia, whole villages were built, as stage props, and carefully culled peasants placed in them, to impress visiting American firemen. When the firemen left, the villages were carted away.

One of the most complete camouflage jobs I ever saw was during a mass press visit to the headquarters of my old boy be they run for congressmen, newsmen or whomever. In a great majority of instances, the trip is a waste of time, trouble and money. What the happy voyagers see is largely the bottom of a bottle and whatever planned point of view the sponsors wish to be presented.

Millions for Junkets

The government has spent a great many millions of dollars lugging legislators around the world, to see carefully staged welcomes, banquets, tableaux and prepared people. Private enterprise has spent a great many more millions, too, for the purpose of impressing the press. Unless the aim is to get loose from the little woman, collect hangers-on in the company of jolly fellows, and while a once-over-lightly on the real estate you visit, you could learn more by staying home and consulting a few reference books.

I think Defense Secretary Louis Johnson might have gone a step further in his frown on the use of military aircraft to freight rollicking free-loaders around the world. He might have abolished the junket altogether, except under such exceptional circumstances as the necessity of showing Congress and the press some of the features of Nazi culture, such as Buchenwald or Belsen.

Weekend guests at the Alphonse Lessard home were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lessard and sons, Kenneth and Lloyd, and Miss Helen Gregory and Miss Mary Bulhak of Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gallerno of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mosiman of Milwaukee and Miss Rose Suhr of Sheboygan, Wis., visited for several days at the Simon McDermott home.

friend, Courthouse Lee. Lee's tame bird dogs buried as much evidence as could be hidden, and created their own stage scenery. If the paucity of sufficient bathing facilities was the question, whole sections of showers were installed, and later taken down. With transportation another point, the old general hid four or five of his private cars and greeted the Inspector General in a jeep.

About the only junket I can recall that provided any meat was a good-time trip down to Venezuela, where everybody went strictly for laughs. In the middle of the fun the locals decided to start a small war of their very own, and for a couple of days the visiting geniuses were actually forced to do a little work.

I find no great indignation in the fact that the aforementioned five congressmen peeked through a hole in the bathroom door to watch Tokyo Rose take a bath. They at least came away with a concrete achievement, and that is more than you can say of most of these expensive picnics.
